WHO WE ARE

A local Not-for-Profit organisation providing a dedicated learning and study space that has been designed for regional people by regional people

The Country Universities Centre Mount Isa is a not-for-profit organisation led by qualified management staff and a skills-based volunteer Board of Directors; Existing to provide quality higher education opportunities to students studying in our local region, no matter which university or degree they are engaged with. We strongly believe that the future of an aspiring student should not be determined by where they live; nor should their career aspirations be limited by proximity to learning opportunities.

We know that those living in country areas like ours are less than half as likely to obtain a degree in contrast to their metropolitan counterparts. This gap has widened in recent years.

Our Centre aims to improve access and choice through offering free services and supports for those pursuing higher education in our region. Lack of a collegiate atmosphere, poor access to quality technology, and a quiet distraction-free environment to study in, are key challenges for the typical student who is studying in a rural, regional, or remote context. Country Universities Mount Isa will work to overcome these barriers to student success; improving the student experience which translates into increasing the quantity and quality of graduates located within the region.

We are part of a larger network of regionally located study communities designed for participating students to excel within a supportive environment, access to advanced technology, face-to-face support, a cohort of fellow students, and quality academic advice. As equity in learning is a paramount value of our organisation, this service is offered to all eligible students free of charge. Any student who is enrolled to study any degree in Australia is welcome to utilise our service.

97% of our students surveyed have attributed an improved academic success to the Country Universities Centre.

PARTNERSHIPS FOR PROGRESS

Industry and community collaboration is a key to enhancing mutual opportunity

At CUC Mount Isa, we are committed to transforming our community by integrating our robust local values into a dynamic educational framework. This approach will not only enhance the learning environment but also open up substantial career opportunities for our students post-graduation.

We will strategically encourage our students to align their career paths with the myriad opportunities available locally, firmly believing in the critical synergy between education and employment for the sustainable growth of our region. At CUC Mount Isa, we will do more than just educate; we will prepare a workforce ready to tackle the specific challenges of our community.

Central to our success will be the strong collaboration between our Centre and pivotal industry and sector partners. Located at the nexus of Mount Isa, our Centre will serve as a vital hub for organisations to connect directly with students who are not just seeking employment, but are eager to innovate and serve their community. This model will not only foster innovation but also strengthen the economic and social fabric of our region. Our students will gain immense value from the broad network of local businesses, organisations, and community groups connected to CUC Mount Isa.

Financial support will play a critical role in sustaining our initiatives, yet the benefits of partnering with us will extend far beyond monetary contributions. Our partnerships will be a testament to the power of collective effort, significantly impacting the lives of our students and the vibrancy of our community.

The aspiration for our students to remain and work locally is not just a hope but a strategic objective. Many of our students, who will be pursuing degrees in health, education, psychology, social work, and community services, will be motivated by a commitment to give back to Mount Isa. Supported by CUC Mount Isa, they will be set to return their enhanced skills to our community, echoing the success stories from other established centres across rural, regional, and remote Australia.

We call on community partners to join us in this noble endeavour. Your financial and in-kind support will be crucial not only for the continuity of our efforts but also for propelling Mount Isa towards a thriving future. Let's unite to foster the development of a local student cohort that will drive the prosperity of our region.
